

Dr. Ramesh M. Punjani
General & Laparoscopic Surgeon.
M.C.P.S., M.S., F.I.C.S.,

Dr. Ramesh M. Punjani is practicing surgeon, with specialization in laparoscopic surgery. He has been practicing general surgery since last 18 years. He is also doing Laparoscopic Surgery for last 10 years. He has already participated in more than 2000 Laparoscopic operations. He himself has done more than 1000 surgeries, both basic as well as advanced. He is also involved in teaching medical undergraduates and postgraduates at K. J. Somaiya Medical College, Sion, as an associate professor. He is on the faculty for training other surgeons in Basic surgical skills, Stapplers in surgery as well as Laparoscopic surgery at Ethicon Institute of Surgical Education at Mahim.

Professional Qualifications & Fellowship:

- 1982 MBBS from Grant Medical College, Mumbai Obtained DISTINCTION in Surgery
- 1986 M.S. (General Surgery), Grant Medical College, Mumbai Dissertation: " Laparoscopy in diagnosis of Abdominal Tuberculosis"
- 1994 Fellow of International College of Surgery

Presentations:

He has presented various papers in different conferences across the country to name few:
MASICON-2001 - Laparoscopy, an important tool in exploring Pandors"s box, a study of 126 cases.
MASICON-2002 - Laparoscopic surgery in diseases of small bowel, a study of 36 cases
MASICON-2003 - Laparoscopic Appendicectomy, is it worthwhile?, a study of 236 cases.

Publications:

He has published various papers in different journals.

Indian Journal of Surgery -

- (1) Original paper on " A simple and safe technique of open insertion of umbilical cannula at Laparoscopy."
- (2) Case report on " An unusual presentation of intestinal duplication." Indian Journal of Gastro entrology -
- (3) A case report on " Port site infection with Mycobacterium Chelonei following Laparoscopic Appendicectomy."